THE KEEPING OF THE FAITH. THE KEEPING OF THE FAITH.

Speaking further of this faith and the manner in which the apostle kept it, Dr. Thames said: "Paul had been a great learner, a great preacher and teacher, and a great defender of the faith; but now in this supreme moment he found less satisfaction in these things than in that he had been a faithful keeper of the faith. In intimacles with his Master, in visions and dreams, in third heaven's hearing things now lawful to repeat, in the plenitude of the operation of the Spirit, he had been accorded high privileges as a learner and disciple of the faith; in large learning, in masterly argument, in matchless cloquence, in undying literary monuments, in numberless conversions, and in countless churches planted and nourished, building everywhere upon foundations not laid by other men he Boatwright, of Richmond College. He was most heartfelt in his words. "Thackeray once visited this city by the James," he said, "and wrote of it that it was the merriest city in all the land, and one of good cheer. I some-times think," said he, "that the General Association qualit to come to Richmond Association ought to come to Riehmond oftener than it does. And where in all this State will you find a man who loves, the Baptists better than does the pastor of this church? Richmond is said to be the one city of all the world in which the Baptists are in the lead. We mus see to it that the Baptists must stay in the lead." The speaker, continuing, said the pas year had not been one to boast of. It has been a hard year. The campaign had swept over the country like a flame of fire. Religion had been forced from the fire. Religion had been forced from the minds of the people, while every one stood on tip-toe, waiting for the election of William Jennings Bryan. There was not a cheer at the mention of the name of the nominee, for the audience remembered that they were in a house of worship, but you could almost hear the cutburst under the breath of the great audience, and one little page actually let out just the "tinlest bit" of a cheer, auch be only to those within a few feet of him.

Dr. Hatcher read out the list of appointments that had been made to fill the pulpits to-morrow, but as many who had been assigned churches had not arrived, it was deemed beat not to publish the list until Sunday.

The Committee on Arrangements and Order of Business, of which Mr. J. Taylor Ellyson was made chairman, then made the following report:

Hours of meeting—9:39 A. M., adjourn 2 P. M., meet again at 7:39 P. M., adjourn at pleasure.

Saturday morning—9:39 to 9:45, treasurer's report; 9:45 to 11, Ministers' Reiier Fund; 11 to 11:39, American Baptist Publication Society, 11:39 to 1, foreign missions; 1 to 1:20, Committee on Co-peration; 1:39 to 2, report Committee on Outuary, Saturday night, 7:39, orphanage.

Dr. Jones objected to a "special order" being given to the American Baptist Publication Society, saying that no discrimination should be made against other such societies. It was finally, after some discussion, decided to give the time to the chairman. P. G. Seymour, Bible secretary of the Publication Society.

This action was reported to the league, and Mr. Freedman made a few warm remarks, alleging that certain members had instigated Rusie to bring the suits. The treasurer was instructed to pay Henry Chadwick, the father of base-bail. The chairman was instructed to appoint a committee of three, of which Mr. Young is to be chairman, to devise, if possible, a better means of controlling umpires, and to make their report at the spring meeting. The scheme is to have some one travel around the circuit, under Young's direction, and watch the playing.

The president was directed to notify the attorneys for the league who have been defending the suit brought in Cieveland by Oliver Tebeau, of that club, who was fined $200 last June, to discontinue any further defence and to pay proper costs. This action was taken because the Court of Common Pleas had decided that the imposition of the fine was contrary to the league constitution.

The league adjourned to meet in Baltimore the last Thursday in February.

SEABOARD AIR-LINE DEAL.

Until December 1st.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 13-An evening paper publishes the following n its railroad gossip:

"The closing of the option for the pur chase of the Scaboard and Air-Line roads by Thomas F. Ryan, of New York, and his associates, has been postponed until December 1st. It is said that there has not been at any time any question of Mr. Ryan's ability to raise the money, Mr. Ryan's ability to raise the money, but that the necessity for postponement is on account of the action in the matter of President Hoffman and General-Manager St. John, who, it is said, have both been slated for displacement, and they are claimed to be trying to hold on as long as possible. It is regarded, however, as absolutely certain that the deal will so through before the close of the ever, as absolutely certain that the deal will go through before the close of the present month, and that when the history of the transaction comes to be written, if it is ever made public, it will be found that the Louisville and Nashville and the Southern railway companies have agreed upon a joint ownership of the Scaboard, although the new corporation will be headed and ostensibly managed by Mr. Ryan and those selected by him."

INTEREST FELT IN CUBAN AFFAIRS.

Interview May Indicate the Attitude of the Consul-General-Local

Richmond to-day to confer with the bolting Democrats about his becoming their fusion candidate for Governor next year, as it was reported a day or two ago that he would do. On the contrary, the Consul-General goes to Washington to talk over the Cuban situation with Mr. Cleveland.

A friend of General Lee's, who has talked with him within the last few days, said last night that he was certain from what the popular ex-Governor said to him that Lee would not entertain a proposition to become the Bolters' candidate for Govhis present mission; there is no reaso to believe that he will be displaced early in the McKinley administration, if he is at all, and General Lee has no disposition, this gentleman thinks, to ally himself with the Bolters in the movement which they are reported to have in contemplation looking to fusion with the Republicans He was written to during the recent campaign, and urged to come to Virginia, but he did not heed the pleadings.

INTEREST IN CUBAN AFFAIRS.

The great interest felt in Cuban affairs The great interest felt in Cuban affafrs will be accentuated by the knowledge of the fact that the Consul-General has an engagement with President Cleveland for another interview to-day, touching the situation on the island. General Lee has maintained discreet silence with reference to his report to the administration with reference to the trouble in Cuba, but it is pretty well understood that he has made some important recommendations, which, if adopted, may lead to the settlement of the Cuban troubles.

It has been suggested that the recent interview of General Bradley T. Johnson may throw some light on the matter of General Lee's recommendations.

ter of General Lee's recommendations. The two gentiemen are close friends, and General Johnson recently spent some weeks in Cuba. In his interview, which was printed in the Dispatch, he said:
"The insurgents will eventually win, possibly within eight months, newtithstanding the enormous forces arrayed against them. But there is another feature about the contest worthy of note. If the incumbent administration does not take some action looking to a recognitake some action looking to a recogni-tion of the independence of Cuba. it is my opinion that President-elect McKinley will take that step immediately upon his inauguration as President." ELECTION LAW WORKED SATISFAC-TORILY.

Hon. J. C. Parker, member of the House of Delegates, from Southampton county, and patron of the Parker election bill, under which the recent election in Virginia was held, is in the city, stopping at Murphy's. When asked by a Dispatch man last night what he thought the correction of the election law in one of the judges may render assistance in the preparation of the ballot when the voter is physically or educationally disqualified to prepare it himself. This simply means that, if a man is blind or has not the use of his hands, one of the indeed. so if he is otherwise incapable of pre-paring it. In the latter case, the voter can be assisted—that is, the judge can point out on the ticket the names of the point out on the tract the makes of the persons for whom the voter wishes to cast his ballot. I know of cases where the judges actually marked such names with a lead-pencil, and the voter, being dublous about the honesty of the judges. and unable to read, left other names the tickets and scratched these out."

It is foolish for Lamb to prate about the Bolters having betrayed their pledges." betrayed their pledges."

AS TO CONTESTS.

Mr. Allan was asked by the reporter if there was any probability of a contest being made in this district, and his reply was in the affirmative. He said that in Richmond and Manchester and Henrico affidavits had been secured from 2,300 men affidavits had been secured from 2,300 men who were unable to set to the polls to cast their votes, but who would have voted for Lewis had they had the opportunity. In speaking of the contest in the Fourth District, Mr. Allan said the main point which would be urged in favor of Thorp would be that the same election officers, Betselburg, who were criticised by the would be that the same election officers in Petersburg, who were criticised by the last Congress when it seated Thorp, were allowed to remain in their offices during this election. Mr. William H. The statement that the finding of the arbitration court must be completed early in February is unfounded. It is scarcely to be expected that a decision will be reached short of a year. THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

No One Doubts Now That a Brighter Day Is Dawning, NEW YORK, November 13.-Messrs, R.

G. Dun & Co. will say to-morrow, in their weekly review of trade: dawning, and it is a common remark that never before has business shown so great a change for the better within a single week. To the change of conditions and of spirit described last week there has al-ceady answered a large increase in the working force and in the volume of trade. The dispatches telling of about 50 enter-prises, most of which have opened in full, or have materially enlarged their force, though they fill many columns, give only working force and in the volume of trade. The dispatches telling of about 500 enterprises, most of which have opened in full, or have materially enlarged their force, though they fill many columns, give only part of the facts, for throughout the country the gain has been surprising, even to the most honeful.

Foreign need of American wheat continues an important factor, and the price has advanced to 88 cents, gaining 6 cents for one week, 10 cents for two weeks, and 24 cents since early in September. The price is the highest since June, 1822.

Many textile works have been starting or increasing force, mostly on orders booked weeks ago. But there has not been much gain in the demand as yet, After purchases of 46,00,000 pounds of wool in five weeks, the transactions fell to 6,243, 700 pounds last week, but prices were strong, and in some grades I cent higher, and even a greater advance is demanded at the West, while foreign markets are higher, and Australia fully I cent per pound. The market for cotton goods is not yet active, but more liberal estimates of the cotton crop are generally credited, causing a 1-8 cent decline, to 8 cents.

The output of iron furnaces in blast November 1st was 124,677 tons weekly, having been increased 11,2% tons, or 19 per cent, in the latter part of October by confidence in the future.

All the markets are stronger, although the enormous purchases of pig-iron in advance of needs caused comparative inactivity at present. Plates and steel bars are $1 to 33 per ton higher, and sheets in better demand. Anthracite and Bessemer rail, and wire-nall associations meet this week, and the underselling of wire mails by outsiders has gone so far that a decline of 45 cents is openly quoted. It is noteworthy that the prevailing expectation, notwithstanding the general improvement in business, is that some, if not all, of these combinations will desire to reduce prices. The coke combination, it now appears, has not prevented large contracts for future delivery at less than $1.70.

Bradstreet's to-morrow will say: The volume of business improves slowly in nearly all lines. The most active demand is among jothers in dry goods, clothing, millinery, shoes, leather, and hardware, and in leading industrial lines, nearly 200 mills, factories, and foundries having started up this week, one half of them in the iron, sieel, machinery, tools, carriages, lumber glass, woollen, and cotton goods lines. Cotton and cotton goods continues confident of a large business during the coming year. Cotton and cotton goods continue firm and unchanged in prices and prices are for leather, shoes white-pine lumber, petroleum, lard, and sugar, and for wheat, corn, and onts. The strength of the statistical position of wheat is as marked as heretofore, and renewed inquiries are received from Australia. Conspicuous decreases in prices are those for coffee, pork, and turpentine. Western jobbers report an increase in mail orders, and suy that the between seasons situation in some lines alone grevents the improvement in demand from jobbers being general. Mercanthe collections throughout the Central, Western, and Southern States are easier, but complaints are still heard from the West.

ARRAIGNMENT OF THE ALLEGED IRISH-AMERICAN DYNAMITER,

MYSTERIOUS WITNESS.

He Seems to Have Been a British

LONDON, November 12 -- Edward J. Ivory alias Edward Bell, the alleged Irish-American dynamiter, was again arraigned in the Bow-Street Police Court this morning, and, in accordance with the prisoner's request for the protection of an American citizen, Dr. Carter, representing the United States Embassy. was present to watch the proceedings. A witness was called to the stand, whose name was withheld from the public, but was written on a plece of paper and banded to the clerk. Before the examination other artists were warned that if they were detected in the act of making would be cleared. The witness proved to be a government spy, who was, sent to the United States in 1891 to watch dynamiters. He joined the United Irishthe Shamrock Club, in the presence of Tynan, Kearney, and other prominent Irish agitators. Subsequently, a new Irish camp was formed, of which the wit-ness was elected treasurer.
